World Benzodiazepines Awareness Day: A Call to Prevent Misuse and Promote Safer Prescribing

Every year on July 11th, the world observes World Benzodiazepine Awareness Day (W-BAD), which aims to increase awareness of the possible dangers and negative effects of long-term benzodiazepine use. W-BAD informs the public, medical professionals, and policymakers about the risks of benzodiazepine dependence, the difficulties associated with withdrawal, and the significance of safer prescribing practices (W-BAD.org, 2022). W-BAD brings people and communities together globally to promote reform, informed consent, and better treatment practices for those who are impacted (W-BAD.org, 2022).

For a factsheet related to Benzodiazepines, please visit the DEA website.
